Biographical/Historical Note

Mammoth Spring, Arkansas was originally established because of the large fresh water spring and flourished after the railroad came through in the 1880s. It became a popular vacation spot on the White River and hosted a Civil War Soldier's Reunion for several decades.

A state park was established in 1957, preserving the lake, a dam, and trails. After the train depot closed down, the park expanded to include the historic depot. Mammoth Spring State Park remains a popular destination for Arkansans and outside visitors alike.
