Miss Beryl Henry To Jerome Post

Miss Beryl Henry, superintendent of Hope public schools and with that system as principal or superintendent for 24 years, announced her resignation today, effective October 1, to become director of school curriculum for the War Relocation Board at the Japanese colony at Jerome.

Her new work will deal with approximately 3,000 school children. There will be a high school with an enrollment of 1,100, and two elementary schools with 900 students each.

Miss Henry, a native of Bentonville, went to Hope as principal of the High School in 1918. She advanced to superintendent of schools in 1930. She has served as secretary of the Arkansas Education Association.
