Arkansas State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors electrical panel board directory, 1930-1970

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalheritage.arkansas.gov/finding-aids

Part of the United States History Commons

Recommended Citation
Arkansas State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors electrical panel board directory, Arkansas State Archives, Little Rock, Arkansas.

Use and reproduction of images held by the Arkansas State Archives without prior written permission is prohibited. For information on reproducing images held by the Arkansas State Archives, please call 501-682-6900 or email at state.archives@arkansas.gov.
Arkansas State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors electrical panel board directory

MS.000724

Finding aid prepared by the Arkansas State Archives

This finding aid was produced using the Archivists’ Toolkit

June 03, 2020

Describing Archives: A Content Standard
Table of Contents

Summary Information ................................................................................................................................. 3
Biographical/Historical Note...................................................................................................................... 4
Scope and Contents ..................................................................................................................................... 4
Administrative Information ......................................................................................................................... 4
Collection Inventory ................................................................................................................................... 5
Summary Information

Repository  Arkansas State Archives

Title  Arkansas State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors electrical panel board directory

Date [inclusive]  1930-1970

Extent  0.2 Cubic feet 1 box

Language  English

Language of Materials  Materials entirely in English.

Preferred Citation
Arkansas State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors electrical panel board directory, Arkansas State Archives, Little Rock, Arkansas
Biographical/Historical Note

The Jim Crow Era, which largely existed from the end of the Reconstruction Era to the mid-1960s, was a legally backed racial caste system which segregated whites and blacks in nearly every facet of society. As such, public spaces and facilities designated for blacks often had the word “colored,” now considered a racial epithet.

Scope and Contents

The collection consists of one CD and an electrical panel board directory of 20 areas, two of which were segregated. This is demonstrated by use of the racial epithet "colored" for rooms designated for blacks.

Administrative Information

Publication Information
Arkansas State Archives 05/19/2016

Conditions Governing Access
This collection is open for research use.

Conditions Governing Use
The copyright law of the United States (Title 17-U.S. Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. The person using this material is liable for any infringement.

Immediate Source of Acquisition
Arkansas State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors, Little Rock, Arkansas, 2016.
Collection Inventory

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Electrical panel board directory digital images</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

ASA_CD_ElectricalPanel_MS724_Disc_1

ASA_JPEG_ElectricalPanel_MS724_Disc_1_1

ASA_JPEG_ElectricalPanel_MS724_Disc_1_2

3. Close up view of directory located on interior electrical panel board inside of door. Photographed in Little Rock, Arkansas. Color. 2015 April 14

ASA_JPEG_ElectricalPanel_MS724_Disc_1_3