

Arkansas State Archives

Arkansas Digital Archives

Japanese American internment in Arkansas

Online exhibits

Newspaper article, "USO for Jerome Soldiers"

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalheritage.arkansas.gov/exhibits-online-japanese-american-internment>

Part of the United States History Commons

Recommended Citation

Newspaper article, "USO for Jerome Soldiers", Newspaper microfilm collection: McGehee Times, Arkansas State Archives, Little Rock, Arkansas.

Use and reproduction of images held by the Arkansas State Archives without prior written permission is prohibited. For information on reproducing images held by the Arkansas State Archives, please call 501-682-6900 or email at state.archives@arkansas.gov.

USO For Jerome Soldiers

Having no place to go and knowing few, if any, people here, U. S. Soldiers from the Jerome prisoner of war camp stroll up and down the McGehee streets. This happens every week end and many days through the week. Lack of planned recreation for them is causing disorderly conduct among them, which has led to too many arrests and fines during the past few weeks.

Guard duty is dreary enough and when they get away from camp, they'd like to have some fun. About the most they can do now is to hang around on the street corners. It's time a civic group took them in and planned a USO for them.

wide, so their latest courageous move was to be expected but certainly not overlooked.

A number of Japanese-Americans in the 442nd have relatives in the Rohwer Relocation camp and we know they are justly proud of their servicemen.
