Biographical/Historical Note

Nathaniel Pierce was a Union soldier, who joined the 14th Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry in Toledo, Ohio, on August 26, 1861, at the age of fifteen. He served as a musician in Company G and mustered out in July 1865. He participated in numerous engagements, including the Chattanooga and Atlanta campaigns. The majority of his letters are to his mother, Sarah Pierce.

Scope and Contents

This collection contains twenty-four Civil War letters written by Nathaniel Pierce; one 1862 letter written by his superior officer, W.F. Stofford, to Pierce's mother; and one written by Pierce after the war.
